The purposes for which we collect, use and hold your information may include:

- Providing you or a customer with services or information
- Processing transactions, including in respect of purchased auction items
- Verifying your identity
- Contacting you (including via electronic messaging, by mail or by phone)
- Managing our relationship with you, evaluating our business performance and building our customer database
- Direct marketing (see below)
- To consider employment applications

- Managing our business
- Managing visits made to our Website, including analysing data collected from our Website concerning site visits and activities of users

We may also use your personal information for other purposes not listed above but this will be made clear to you at the time we collect your personal information. We may be able to provide you with limited information and services in the absence of you providing personal information but generally we will be unable to provide you with services unless you provide personal information.

How we may use and disclose personal information

Hymans may use or disclose your personal information for the purpose for which it was collected. We will also use and disclose your personal information for a related second purpose, if the use or disclosure could be reasonably expected and as otherwise authorised or required by law.

We may share your information and disclose information collected from you to our related entities, advisors (lawyers, accountants and other professionals), consultants, insurers, employees, agents, contractors and third parties. These third parties can include:

- Service providers we use in conducting our business – including third party valuers, outsourced administrative support service provider, mailing houses and marketing companies, banks, debt recovery firms, data storage services and IT support

- Credit reporting bodies and credit providers

Sometimes, we (or the third parties) may send your information overseas, including to:

- Service providers or third parties who store data or operate outside Australia
- Complete a transaction
- Comply with law

The countries in which these third parties are located will depend on the circumstances. However, in the course of our ordinary business operations, we commonly disclose personal information to third parties located in the following countries:

- Philippines
- the United Kingdom
- New Zealand
- Germany
- Ireland
- United States of America
- India

Hymans utilises the services of an online service provider to operate our online auction website. This provider, Bidpath Group, collects individual's personal information for this purpose and their head office is located in the United Kingdom. Bidpath Group's Privacy Policy is available at <https://bidpath.com/privacy-policy/>

We will not sell, trade or rent your personal information to any third parties for marketing purposes without your consent.

Keeping your information safe

We store information in paper, physical and electronic form.

We will take reasonable steps to keep secure and protect any personal information which we hold about you, including:

- Using software which encrypts information you input
- Using firewalls, intrusion detection and virus scanning tools to stop viruses and unauthorised people accessing our systems
- Securing our physical premises and digital storage media
- Placing password protection and access control over our information technology systems and databases to limit access and protect electronic information from unauthorised interference, access, modification and disclosure
- Taking regular back-ups of our electronic systems

The providing of information via the internet is not completely secure. We cannot guarantee the security of your data provided online. You need to be vigilant about the protection of your own personal information when using the internet.

How we use personal information for direct marketing

We may contact you from time to time to inform you about existing / new services and or auctions that we feel you may be interested in (via email or phone). This is particularly so if you have previously attended or participated in an auction or purchase of assets of like nature.

We will ensure that any e-mail that you are sent by us as direct marketing complies with the SPAM Act 2003 (Cth.) and contains an 'unsubscribe' option so that you can remove yourself from any further marketing communications.

You can also call or write to us to request that your details be removed from our direct marketing list. We will endeavour to remove your details from our direct marketing list within a reasonable time (ordinarily 5 business days).

Cookies and Analytics

We use a cookie system on our Website. Cookies are small files of information that save and retrieve information about your visit to our Website. If you do not wish to grant us the right to use cookies to gather information about you while you are using our Website, then you may elect to set your browser settings to disable cookies. This may cause parts of our Website to not function properly.

We may use statistical analytics software tools such as Google Analytics and software known as cookies which transmit data to third party servers located overseas.

Not identifying yourself

Under the Privacy Act, individuals have the option of not identifying themselves, or of using a pseudonym. Because of the nature of our business, it is sometimes impracticable to deal with people on an anonymous basis or using a pseudonym (particularly for processing and / or delivering purchased auction items and valuations).

We may be able to provide you with limited information and services in the absence of you identifying yourself but generally we will be unable to provide you with services unless you have identified yourself.

External websites

Our site contains links to external websites. The terms of this Privacy Policy do not apply to externally linked websites and you should read their privacy policies. Hymans makes no representation or warranty as to how third party websites may handle, collect or disclose your personal information.

Updating your personal information

Hymans makes all efforts to ensure that your personal information is complete, current and accurate. You have a right to request a correction or update of your personal information held by us. If you wish to correct or update any personal information we may hold about you, please contact us as set out below.

Access to personal information

You are entitled to access any personal information we have collected which is about you. If you wish to access any personal information we may hold about you, please contact us as set out below.

We may charge for providing access to your personal information.

Complaint process / Contact us

If you have any enquiries about this Privacy Policy, or want to submit a written complaint to us about how we handle your personal information, please contact us at:
